GENEVA.

MEETING OF THE ARBITRATORS YESTERDAY.

A Lengthy Adjournment Expected.

Adjournment Till the 26th Instant.

GENEVA, June 19.—The Tribunal of Arbitration will meet this afternoon pro forma. The next adjournment will be for a longer period than the last. A resolute effort is being made to settle the cardinal differences which have arisen between the English and American governments.

GENEVA, June 19.—The Board of Arbitration met to-day, and adjourned until the 26th inst. It is expected that intelligence will be received by that date which will prove favorable to the settlement of the differences.

GENEVA, June 19.—After the sitting of the Board to-day, Secretary Favrot informed the representatives of the press that they would be admitted to the council room as soon as certain delicate questions were settled. There is a vague impression that the indirect claims are causing fresh difficulties. It is said that the Arbitrators will give a decision on the question of adjournment at the next session, even in the absence of the parties interested. Important dispatches from London are expected by the British representatives here, which will determine their course of action on Wednesday next.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19, 1872.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

The intimation concerning the consultations between Mr. Evarts and Sir Roundell Palmer, at Geneva, received here officially, lead to the expectation that the arbitrators may themselves remove all obstacles to the progress of the conference by virtually deciding the question of indirect damages, in delivering an opinion upon the English request for adjournment. The proposition is for the arbitrators to announce that in considering the reasons for asking an adjournment they find them based upon the supposition that the two parties to the conference have not as yet come to an understanding upon the question of indirect claims, but that in examining the treaty the arbitrators hold that such claims cannot come before them, and consequently there is no need of an adjournment. This would suit our authorities, since it would be equivalent to having the arbitrators decide upon the question of indirect damages.

NEW YORK, June 19.—A special from Geneva says the American and British agents have been busy in holding consultations and receiving dispatches. It is evident that unless counsel on both sides come to some agreement to-night, at the formal meeting of the Board on Wednesday the motion to adjourn will again be brought before the Board, in which case an adjournment for several days is probable. Efforts are being made to adjourn till next week, in the hope that Granville and Fish may arrive at an understanding.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—It is thought in official circles that the Board of Arbitration may possibly render an opinion in relation to that part of our case known as indirect losses.

MUSIC OF THE NATIONS.

Germany's Day—An Excellent Selection of German Music—Another Letter from Our Correspondent.

BOSTON, June 19.—The third day of the Jubilee was devoted to Germany, and the Coliseum was well filled, the Teutonic element predominating. The concert opened with the choral from "Luther," "A Strong Castle is Our Lord," followed by Wagner's overture from "Tannhauser;" Mendelsohn's chorus, "Yet With the Lord;" aria, "E Varie," sung by Peshta Leutner, "Farewell to the Forest;" Strauss's "Morgenblatte waltz," conducted by Strauss, and Piano solo by Franz Bendel; all of which were rendered in fine style, and elicited great applause. The bands of the Kaiser Franz and Grenadier red coats, were received with immense enthusiasm as they took their position on the stage. Herr Laro led it through several selections, meeting with great favor. The "German Union Hymn," dedicated to the Emperor of Germany, was next sung by the grand chorus, accompanied by the organ, orchestra and band. The audience greeted it with cheers, waving of handkerchiefs, &c., the German band responding with "Hail, Columbia," "Yankee Doodle" and "Wacht am Rhine."

The Imperial Cornet Quartette of Germany were received with great applause. They performed several selections, and were heartily encored. Franz Abt directed the performance of his own ballad, "When the Swallows Homeward Fly," at the conclusion of which the whole audience rose and cheered for several minutes. The "Anvil Chorus" followed, with all the accompaniments, and the concert concluded with the hymn "Kingdoms and Thrones," with full chorus, organ and orchestra.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

BOSTON, MASS., June 17, 1872.

This day is the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. To-day the stars and stripes float from the monument, at the foot of which Robert Toombs said he would call the roll of his slaves. How different! The soil once dedicated to freedom, and rendered sacred by the blood of Warren and those who fell with him on that day, which this monument commemorates, is not yet cursed by a bondman's chain. In a half hour the opening chorus of the jubilee will begin. The collation of the city to the press, through its representatives, has passed, and was a notable and grand success. The walls of old Faneuil, which in times of old echoed to the utterances of freedom as tongued by Webster and others, form a fitting spot in which to receive the welcome from the city whose very soil begets freedom, to the representatives of a free press.

The vast Coliseum is rapidly filling by the thousands in attendance, while every avenue leading to it is packed with its living mass of human beings, pushing their way, actuated by various motives, some by curiosity, some by the love of music, and others by various impulses all intent to hear what is to be heard and see what is to be seen. The battery of artillery, consisting of twelve pieces, which is to be fired by electricity, as an accompaniment to the united voices of the 20,000 persons who will join the chorus and anthem, is in place just without the Coliseum building, and the eager crowd await the hour which shall begin the exercises of a musical celebration, which for magnitude and promised success surpasses anything heretofore known, and becomes to all more and more a cause for wonder and admiration.

The opening chorus of praise, sang to that immortal tune "Old Hundred," was grand beyond conception. Of the exercises I will say little, as words can convey no adequate idea of the facts. The immense power of the grand organ, and the volume of the combined choral and orchestra, can be comprehended by the fact that the noise of the battery of artillery just without the Coliseum, was scarcely perceptible above the sound within the building, and yet so complete is the control of those conducting the music of the Jubilee, and so great the harmony of the music, that no discord is discernable and no failure of any part discoverable. Thus has passed America's day at the Jubilee, a day of patriotic song devoted to the sentiment most beautifully spoken by the Honorable Mayor of the city in his address of welcome, and the oration of the Hon. N. P. Banks. A.

POLITICAL.

Congressional Nomination.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 19.—The Republican Convention for the Eighth Congressional District, which met in Logansport to-day, nominated Hon. Jas. M. Tyner by acclamation for re-election.

Minnesota Democratic Convention.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 19.—The regular convention of the Democrats of Minnesota is now in session in this city. The work to be performed is more especially to elect delegates to the Baltimore Convention, and to ascertain the extent and give voice to the Democrats of Wisconsin toward the ratification of the Cincinnati movement. After the Baltimore Convention a new meeting will be called to put in nomination candidates for State Auditor and Judge of the Supreme Court. There is every indication of the enthusiastic indorsement of Greeley and Brown. The temporary Chairman indicated in his opening speech that the work of the convention would be substantially unanimous.

Convention of Narrow-Gauge Railroad Men in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—The convention of narrow-gauge railroad men, locomotive and car builders and others directly and indirectly interested in the subject, convened at the Southern Hotel at about noon. Various committees were appointed. Adjourned till afternoon. The delegates are principally from the South and West, and there is not a broad-gauge man among them.

At the afternoon session Erastus Wells, of St. Louis, was elected President, with a Vice President from each State represented, and L. H. Corn, of Missouri, and W. C. Greenwood, of Denver, E. Hurlbut, of Georgia, W. C. Palmer, of Mississippi, Y. A. Karenetsse, of Kansas City, and others participated. A Speck of War in Kansas.

ELDORADO, June 19.—On the 1st of June an election was held in this county to determine the county seat, and resulted in a majority of two hundred for Augusta. The people opposed the election on the ground of illegality, and applied to Court for an order restraining the Commissioners from counting the vote. Yesterday about one hundred and fifty armed men, with teams, came here for the purpose of taking the county effects to Augusta by force, but the Eldorado people met these with arms, and no effort was made to carry out their design. Great excitement prevailed, and fears were entertained that there would be another raid, and possibly bloodshed. The Court decided that it could not issue an injunction, and so matters rest for the present.

The Pope Grows Belligerent.

ROME, June 19.—The Pope has addressed a letter to Cardinal Antonelli, deploring the approaching enforcement of the law suppressing convents in Italy as a violation of international law. He says the constant enroachments on the rights of the Church by the Government of Italy violates morality and justice. Only a regard for her highest interests prevents the head of the Church from leaving Rome. The conflict between the Holy See and the Italian Government is inevitable, and a reconciliation impossible. The Pope cannot submit to such usurpations, and he requests Antonelli to protest against them to the foreign powers.

ON THE WANE.

The excitement about labor strikes is on the wane, and promises to result most disastrously to the men. The Eight Hour League no longer attracts a concourse equal to the capacity of the Teutonic assembly rooms. This morning not more than 300 or 400 members were in attendance on the daily session. At the piano makers' meeting this morning a member arose and urged the men to go to work at once. He argued that the longer the evil day was put off the more abject would be the surrender. A dispatch from Boston was received, stating that the men were organizing there to go on a strike the latter part of July. Peter Cooper has given a thousand dollars towards sustaining the shirt cutters in their strike. The Singer sewing machine men are still out, and there does not appear any possibility of a speedy or satisfactory adjustment. The sugar refiners are in precisely the same condition as yesterday. The stable men and coach men of Brooklyn will strike Saturday unless paid $14 instead of $12 a week.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The Board of Health have resolved that in future no human dead body shall be allowed to be buried in any vault or cemetery south of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, and no vaults or cemeteries be opened for any purpose between May and November.

The grand jury of the Court of General Sessions call attention to the increasing number of beggars, and say the growing evil of the exhibition of disgusting deformities ought to be suppressed. They also call attention to the violation of the excise law in the sale of liquors on Sunday.

The estimates of the cost of running the departments of the Brooklyn city government for the year 1873 have been completed, and the amount aggregates $8,185,851—being an excess of $2,120,310 over 1872.

As an emigrant train from Jersey City was passing over switches at Metuchen Station this evening the express and six other cars ran off in such a manner as to obstruct both tracks. Meeting of the Western Press Association in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The annual meeting of the Western Associated Press was held at the Tremont House, this city, at ten o'clock this morning. Nearly every paper in the Association was represented. The old officers of the Association were re-elected, the only change being that Mr. Siebeneck, of the Pittsburgh Chronicle, was added to the Executive Committee, and William Hyde, of the St. Louis Republican, was elected on the Executive Committee in place of D. M. Houser, formerly of the Missouri Democrat. At one o'clock the members of the Association took carriages for a drive through the burnt district. This afternoon they will go upon an excursion to Hyde Park, where a banquet and ball will be given this evening.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The members of the Associated Press, accompanied by a large number of gentlemen and ladies of this city, made an excursion to Hyde Park this evening, where there was a handsome collation and afterwards dancing. National Division Sons of Temperance.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The twenty-eighth annual session of the National Division of the Sons of Temperance of North America convened here to-day. The Most Worthy Patriarch's report was read. It calls attention to the difficulty in the South about charters, the Grand Division in some of the States having refused to recognize the colored lodges in their jurisdiction or admit them to membership. He recommends that he be empowered to grant charters to colored lodges. The report of the Most Worthy Scribe shows that there has been a net decrease in membership of 4,623, on account of the difficulty alluded to. Standing committees were appointed and the reports appropriately referred. A lively fight is anticipated on the colored question. In the evening the members of the National Division were formally received at the First Baptist Church by the Grand Division of Illinois. Brief addresses were made by M. W. Ross, W. W. Pragson and M. W. P. Ranson. The Division will be in session until next Saturday.

Settlement of the Canadian Abduction Case.

THE PRISONER SAFE IN JAIL.

The "Patriot" Out for Greeley.

Total Reduction of the Revenue.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19, 1872.

The Abducted Man Found.

The government detective who arrested the man in Canada has been found. He arrived here to-day, having been sent from South Carolina to the District Attorney. His prisoner is safe in jail. The State Department has been busy with the case to-day, and the prisoner will undoubtedly be sent back to Canada. Mr. Thornton has not presented a formal demand for him.

A Change of Front.

The Patriot, the Democratic organ in this city, which has hitherto bitterly opposed Greeley, this morning says in regard to his nomination that "nothing but wilful blindness can refuse to recognize the signs which are manifest to be mistaken. For the first time in the history of the party a candidate for the Presidency is urged whose career has been signalled by intense hostility to its principles, its distinctive ideas and its success. To those who cherish the very name of Democracy as the symbol of a great popular cause, and who have been educated to honor the traditions associated with Jefferson and Jackson, the first suggestion of such a departure startles the mind, and is repelled as a thought of treachery or infidelity; but when the abnormal situation is calmly considered, and men reflect how such a possibility came to be presented, reason resumes its sway, and this instructive repugnance is soothed by patriotic persuasion." The Patriot sets forth its belief that Greeley lacks strength as follows: "It is absurd to suppose that Mr. Greeley or any other candidate has the remotest prospect of election without the cordial and compact support of the Democracy. Calculations which begin by admitting a partial loss of that vote must end by confessing disastrous defeat. One of the strongest objections pressed against Mr. Greeley has been his failure thus far to develope any large following from the Republicans, which was alleged at the outset to be his peculiar element of strength, from his long and pronounced connection with that party. The fact is not denied, and the explanation that the disaffected are waiting for action at Baltimore, in order to show their hands, may be creditable to their candor, but it is far from being complimentary to their professed principles."

The Revenue Reduction.

The Treasury Department has carefully revised the items of reduction under the new revenue law, and finds the total amount of reduction $51,823,761, distributed as follows: Tariff, $11,933,190; free list, $19,239,570; internal revenue, $20,651,000.

Commencing less than half a century since in iron works, upon a small stream, with a capital of less than $24,000, it has by its untiring industry gradually expanded its business, until it has become a seat of vast manufactures of both iron and cotton, giving employment to several railways and steamers and many thousand operatives. Its spindles have increased during the last year from half a million to a million, with a prospect of gaining another quarter of a million the present year.

Of this stock, we are now selling freely, to be delivered on or immediately after July 1st, at from 18 to 20 cents lower than present New York prices. The advantage in buying of us consists not only in that we sell teas cheaper than they can be sold in New York, but also in having them delivered at once after 1st prox. As those depending on supplies from the East will experience great delay by the rush there will be in getting goods out of bond, and also from the fact that the goods to be transmitted will greatly exceed for a time the shipping capacity of railroads. Nos. 26 and 28 SIXTH STREET,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

The Daily Commercial.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1872.

In our article on "The Brewers' Congress," in yesterday's Commercial, through an oversight in proof-reading, we were made absurdly to exaggerate the number of breweries in the United States. The number reported at the Congress was three thousand, and not three millions.

It is understood that, with characteristic unselfish patriotism, Vice President Colfax will take the stump in Indiana and canvass the State for the success of the Republican ticket, thus removing effectually any shade of dissatisfaction that may have existed among his more ardent supporters on account of the nomination of Senator Wilson. What a refreshing contrast this affords to the course of some others. "'Tis not in nature to command success," but Mr. Colfax has done more—he has deserved it.

In estimating the probabilities of the Presidential contest it should not be forgotten that the religious press of the country—a most potent and powerful influence—is almost unanimously opposed to the election of Mr. Greeley. A large majority of the Protestant portion of the religious press have earnestly pronounced in favor of the Republican candidates, while the leading Catholic organs—including those most hostile to the administration—have declared their unqualified hostility to the Cincinnati ticket. This is a matter of considerable importance, and cannot fail to exert a good deal of weight in determining the issues of the campaign.

An improvement has been perfected on the Danks automatic puddling furnace in England, by which the molten cast iron is run in a thin sheet between rollers revolving at different velocities, with water within the rollers to keep them cool, and the metal is thus powdered. A proper proportion of oxide of iron is then intimately mixed with the powdered iron, and the mixture is delivered from a hopper on to a succession of slowly rotating rollers which are covered with a suitable coating of infusible material. The rollers are kept to the temperature necessary for puddling by a furnace built over them, and when the iron is delivered by the last roller it is puddled iron. This may have interest for some of our Pittsburgh manufacturers.

Edward A. Pollard, the Southern historian of the "Lost Cause," has just issued a political pamphlet in which he glowingly sets forth the claims of Mr. Greeley upon the Democracy, North and South. The author very truly says that "the Democratic party, to support Mr. Greeley for President, is not asked to give up any of the opinions which distinguished it as a party, and which may be necessary to maintain its organization and principles. It is a portion of the Republican party that has come to them, not they who have gone o the Republican party." This writer considers the Cincinnati movement to be as unconditional a surrender as was Lee's submission at Appomattox. Mr. Pollard is supposed to know a good deal about Lost Causes, and hence should make quite a valuable auxilary to the coalition.

In answer to a recent article in the Philadelphia Press, stating that three-fourths of the Republican newspapers of the State ignore our candidate for Governor, and that there is a growing dissatisfaction with the ticket among the people, a correspondent of the Evening Bulletin shows that of the one hundred and seventy-five Republican journals in the State, nearly all have hoisted the name of General Hartranft, in connection with the whole State ticket, at their head; the Philadelphia Press, Lancaster Express, and a few insignificant papers of small circulation and influence, whose combined opposition probably will not affect more than five hundred votes, being the only exceptions. The Bulletin editorially states its belief that the real reason of Col. Forney's otherwise inexplicable course is to be found in connection with the Evans war claims, and says "we express this opinion, regretfully, and after a fruitless search in all other directions for a satisfactory answer to the questions so frequently asked concerning this subject."

The opinion expressed by us a few days ago that the opposition would probably devote even more energy and effort to secure the election of Democratic Congressmen and local representatives than of the candidates placed in nomination by the Baltimore Convention receives corroboration from the tone of a number of Democratic journals with respect to the same matter. A leading Democratic Greeley paper reasons, and thinks that coalitionists throughout the country should also reason, that from a hundred to a hundred and fifty anti-administration Representatives in Congress can be elected if proper exertions are put forth, and it points out that the Senate, which now numbers seventeen Democrats and eight or nine Liberal Republicans, needs only a gain of twelve to give the anti-administration element a majority. "When Congress is ours," it says, "we have control of the Government," and therefore urges that special attention be paid to carrying Congressional and local districts for the opposition nominees. It is evident that some of the hottest work of the campaign is to be done in this part of the political field, and we therefore reiterate the counsel we recently gave, that from this time forward until the close of the struggle our friends in the various States omit no effort to keep the movement of their local canvas fully abreast with the progress of the national campaign.

In the course of some observations concerning the Commercial's late remarks on the Democratic outcry against the supplemental enforcement act, the Post says that "powers are now used by Congress and the President which, had they been claimed twenty-five years ago, would have produced a perfect whirlwind of indignation." Not to enter upon a discussion as to the right of the sovereign people to confer whatever "powers" on Congress and the Executive they see fit, within the limitations of the Constitution, to do, it is perhaps a sufficient answer to the above to suggest that the Democratic party has itself chiefly to thank for whatever changes, unpleasant to it, have been effected in the conduct and policy of the Government since the period mentioned. The Bourbons of humanity always make each successive advance in civilization more thorough, through their stolid opposition to every healthful movement and evolution of the age. A good many memorable events have transpired within the past twenty-five years, but the Post seems wholly to ignore the fact that we have had a civil war, followed by the emancipation and enfranchisement of a race, and that the party of whose principles it is an exponent set itself over in square and inflexible opposition to every liberating and lifting step which the altered circumstances of the times demanded. And yet it is likely that after the deluge the face of the earth was somewhat changed.

The object of the conference called by Senator Schurz, Wm. C. Bryant, ex-Secretary Cox, and others, which assembles in New York today, is variously explained by the different branches of the opposition. On the one hand it is intimated that it is called primarily in antagonism to Mr. Greeley, while on the other it is stated that, with one exception, all the signers of the call will heartily support the Cincinnati ticket. It is pretty evident, however, that the supporters of Mr. Greeley not only did not want the conference to be held, but that they were somewhat unpleasantly surprised when they ascertained that the call had been issued. Moreover, it looks a little singular that men should be called together from all parts of the country for the purpose of effecting a union which, it is claimed, they have already resolved upon. However, it is useless to speculate upon what will or will not be done. If the object of the meeting is to contrive a plan for defeating Mr. Greeley's nomination at Baltimore, it will probably be found too late. The New York World, indeed, frankly confesses that Mr. Greeley cannot be defeated by any offer to substitute some other outside candidate. So large a portion of the Democratic party is already committed to him, that, it holds, there is no possibility of defeating him at Baltimore except by a straight Democratic ticket, and that if the conference aims at anything different, it will not be of the slightest political consequence. As for Mr. Adams, the World says it is certain he would not accept a Democratic nomination under present circumstances. Altogether, it is a very pretty quandary.

Readers may be interested in knowing that whatever gratification or advantage accrues to Boston or the United States, from the presence of the Kaiser Franz Gardemusik corps at the great jubilee festival they owe to Prince Bismarck. The great Gilmore naturally first applied to War Minister Von Roon for the use of the corps, but he postively declined to grant the petition on the ground that the military class would be degraded by participation in any such colossal money speculation. Then Bismarck took the matter in hand, and seems to have had no great difficulty in getting the consent of the Emperor and some leading authorities of the War Department. In the selection of a leader for the band the Royal Music Director, Herman Saro, was preferred, and as his substitute in case of disability, Otto Kramer. Mr. Saro receives $500, Mr. Kramer $400, and each of the musicians $200, with free passage, free commons in America, and a proportionate share in the gross proceeds of a monster concert to be given as a benefit. One half of their wages was paid in advance. Less interest, however, attaches to these small details than to the main fact, that a Power so long and absolutely controlled by Red Tape and old traditions as the Prussian war office, entered into such a transaction with our great Gilmore. It is surely a striking illustration of Prince Bismarck's civil mindedness and of the German Emperor's good nature.

Cincinnatians are again exercised on the coal question. It is asserted that there is a combination among the up-river dealers to enforce extortionate demands, and the railroad companies and City Councils are called upon to assist in breaking the river monopoly. Pittsburgh coal is now fourteen cents per bushel afloat, and dealers and consumers in Cincinnati are not willing to pay the price. The Gazette "is informed" that large quantities of coal are now mined on the line of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, and that the company has facilities for delivering thirty thousand bushels daily. The charge for transportation is about six cents per bushel, and the cost of coal at the mines is seven cents in the cars—or thirteen cents per bushel. Deducting percentage of loss on account of inferiority, this would be dear compared with Pittsburgh coal. But it is suggested that if large contracts were made by manufacturers and others, so as to guarantee constant employment of the cars, the railroad company would increase its facilities to one hundred and fifty thousand bushels per day, and cheapen both the transportation and the first cost; in other words, that the coal could be purchased for six cents and transported for five. Some persons might prefer to use Indiana coal at eleven cents per bushel, rather than pay fourteen cents for the Pittsburgh article, but it would not be regarded as good economy in this region. Cincinnatians should not regard fourteen cents per bushel as an exorbitant price for Western Pennsylvania coal, all things considered. The risks of shipment are very great, and it is only by employing immense capital that merchants can make the business pay. Private consumers in this city, where fuel is always abundant, pay ten and eleven cents per bushel without grumbling; and when coal is carried five hundred miles, at great risk and expense for shipment, and offered "afloat" at fourteen cents, it is unjust to characterize our merchants as monopolists or extortionists. By refusing to pay fair living rates during the summer season, the Cincinnatians have compelled our merchants to carry their coal to more distant markets; and in the winter season, when the demand was imperative, they have paid almost double that price, and have been glad to get it at that. It remains to be seen whether they will repeat this folly.

The Prince of Wales is again in the hottest of hot water. Returning from Italy and spending a few days in Paris, Wales found himself, it seems, wholly unable to resist the fascinations which proved fatal to his reputation some years ago, and millions of tongues are wagging over his relapse. After a railway journey of seventeen hours from Geneva to Paris, the uninteresting invalid, instead of going to bed, as he ought in common decency to have done, went to see an indecent piece performed in one of the most indecent theaters of that wicked city. This would have been bad by itself and the occasion of much scandal; but, the very next evening he took his wife to witness a still more indecent performance in a still more indecent place. And so on and so on, while they remained in Paris. To intensify the general horror and disgust excited by Wales's conduct, the correspondents are careful to report that the places of amusement thus assiduously patronized by the Prince, are places to which no French gentleman even pretending to respectability, ever goes and much less takes his wife. This royal scandal may to some seem unworthy of mention or thought, especially at our distance from the scene. Really as a part of the chronicle of the time it is about as important as anything that has lately attracted the attention of the world. Such behavior cannot be insignificant or without consequences in the heir apparent of the British crown, whose recovery from a dangerous sickness only a few weeks ago was the occasion of the thanksgiving services which all remember. It is impossible not to reflect that those demonstrations of vehement loyalty were largely an expression of hopes founded on the probable effects of the Prince's recent peril upon his character, and that the stories of misconduct which Americans read almost with indifference convey bitter disappointment and blight to all such illusions. Wales is no longer a boy or even a very young man, and by his lapse into the old evil ways he has probably revived all the odium which his illness had effaced, and confirmed his reputation as a reprobate for whose reformation it would be folly to hope.

The Pittsburgh Volksblatt treats lightly the suggestion of an English-American journal, that the defensive power of Germany is seriously endangered by emigration. It says that within the last twenty-five years Germany has perhaps given to foreign countries a million of men capable of bearing arms, not only without any interference with her defensive national strength, but considerably to the enhancement of the same. The withdrawal through emigration is, it seems, fully compensated by the natural increase of the population, "for," the Volksblatt says, "in Germany fortunately the fashion of infanticide does not yet prevail as it does among the native-born population of a certain other land." No doubt our contemporary alludes to our North American aborigines, some of whose tribes are undoubtedly addicted to the horrible custom of destroying their female children in infancy. Or, the allusion may possibly be to the Rajpoots of India, to whom daughters prove a most oppressive burden, as the custom of their caste makes it necessary to portion each of them as a preliminary condition to marriage. In either case the allusion seems somewhat obscure. With reference to the burden of the paragraph, the denial of the weakening of Germany through emigration, it may be correct enough as regards the actual condition of the country. Certainly it has not yet been fatally or seriously weakened by the withdrawal of its population. It is, however, equally certain that leading German politicians, if the press justly represents them, are not a little concerned in view of the increasing tendency of the people to seek homes in other countries. And not only the press, but the steps proposed or actually taken in high quarters to arrest the tide of emigration, unmistakably evince the anxiety with which it is regarded by German statesmen. We need hardly say that in a highly civilized country whatever interferes with the general prosperity lessens its powers of defense.

Late letters from Brazil report two or three subjects of some little popular excitement in Don Pedro's empire. For one thing, the Emperor has added vastly to his popularity by abolishing the custom of hand-kissing as an expression of homage to himself. It will be remembered that when in Europe last year, Don Pedro gave great satisfaction to the Liberals everywhere by his exceedingly plain, republican manners, and freedom from pomp and pretension. His subjects of the Liberal persuasion were, therefore, not a little surprised that one of his first acts on returning home was to appoint a reception at which his hand would be presented for the customary salutation. It was the last time, as in consequence, it should seem, of the dissatisfaction caused by the ceremony, Don Pedro has formally abolished the fashion forever by edict. Another subject of agitation has been the act of the Bishop of Rio in depriving one of his priests of the prerogatives of preaching and hearing confessions, by way of punishment for participating in a Masonic celebration. As the celebration was in honor of the present Prime Minister of the Empire, the act of the Bishop shows that ecclesiastical dignitaries are as bold and uncompromising in asserting the authority of their church in Brazil as they are in Germany. Finally, we learn that the Brazilians consider the late act of the American Senate equivalent to a gift of ten millions of dollars a year to the coffee-planters of that part of the world.

New Jersey is ambitious of rivaling Liverpool as a port of commerce. Within the past few weeks improvements have been started which, when completed, will give nearly two miles of docks, with a sufficient depth of water for vessels of any draft entering the harbor. These docks and basins, when finished, will have nothing to compare with them except those of London and Liverpool.

The Commencement Exercises at Hollidaysburg Seminary, in this State, are now in progress. Rev. Dr. Wilson, of Allegheny, delivers the address before the Literary Association. This institution has a number of pupils from Pittsburgh and vicinity, some of whom, we observe from the programme, are set down as prominent actors in the exercises.

The Commencement season is again upon us. At old Dartmouth, next Wednesday, Edward Everett Hale, editor of Old and New, delivers the address before the united literary societies, and Walt Whitman reads the poem.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

A new invention in the way of rolling stock, called the drover palace car, is now being used on some of the western roads. The sleeping apartment, occupying one-half of the car, is for the exclusive use of drovers and men in charge of stock. The other half is for the use of train men, and is furnished with a cupola or look-out, enabling train men or drovers to pass out readily, and giving them easy and safe access to any part of the train.

Nicaragua has a lake of mineral water, which is said not only to cure cutaneous diseases, but to take away all appetite for liquors.

The New York Tribune has a club of nearly one hundred subscribers in Greenville, South Carolina. A few years ago a single subscriber was clubbed nearly to death in the same town.

Syracuse, New York, rejoices in the possession of a young man who has a double voice. The effect of his singing is said to be wonderful. He should be engaged to speak and sing for the Liberal cause, at once.

Boston is beginning to import Japanese paper clothing. The paper from which the articles are made is wholly water proof, is thin and light, an overcoat weighing only two pounds. The goods are capable of being washed several times, and will last a number of months.

The judge of the municipal court in Boston has taken a new departure from the established custom in regard to liquor trials, and announced that hereafter the burden of proof would be on the defendant to show that he had not been convicted before in a liquor case.

The growing tendency of women to adopt grave pursuits is exemplified in a female sexton of a Chicago church, who does not consider herself unsexed on account of her occupation.

Sisal hemp, having been found to constitute an excellent material for paper, is being gathered and shipped in large quantities from the sea islands of Florida.

A Western woman has invented a species of field gun, which is represented as being more destructive than any weapon of the kind out. The barrel has a series of grooves and tongues.

Prices are not always lowest when supplies are most plentiful. The cost of gas was reduced in Washington immediately after the adjournment of Congress.

One of the most valuable achievements of the new Chicago is that of comfortable street cars. They are open and airy, and furnished with double cane seated chairs where everybody knows how much space he is entitled to. A very small fire in some other cities would possibly be not amiss, if it were certain that a similar improvement would follow.

The classic little Capital of Switzerland has bedecked itself with flags, in honor of the august Board of Arbitration.

The manufacturers of Newark, New Jersey, are to have an Industrial Exhibition, beginning on the 20th of next August and continuing for several weeks. That city is itself a most wonderful monument to the manufacturing enterprise of our country. The proposed exhibition will, therefore, be of great public value and interest.

A Boston marble firm employs sixty workmen in Carrara, Italy, and is perfectly willing its American hands should strike, because it can get its work done cheaper abroad. Their home workmen call them marble-hearted.

Interesting geographical discoveries have been made in Central Asia by a native soldier in the British East Indian army. He was trained as an explorer by the officers of the great trigonometrical survey of India, who taught him how to make scientific measurements whereby to ascertain the latitue, longitude, and height above the level of the sea, of the localities which he visited.

The Farragut monument is to be thrown open to competition. This is a step in the right direction, and will give general satisfaction to the artistic world. It only remains for the proper authorities to issue circulars giving full information about the conditions of competition. The sum voted for the erection of the memorial is twenty thousand dollars.

Some conception of the immense iron demand in the United States may be inferred from the fact that it requires fully one half of all the American iron produced to build our railroads and keep them in repair.

The extraordinary public manifestations in England in favor of the Tichborne claimant seem to be producing some effect upon the government prosecutors. According to the London Law Times, the government is going to curtail the expenses of the prosecution by confining the evidence to only what can be obtained in England.

A Boston woman of ninety lately got a mercenary youth of a quarter that age to marry her on promise of an income of five thousand dollars a year while she lived and a life interest in her estate after her death. The tune of "Old Hundred" throws him into paroxysms of rage.

A French scientist argues that mankind are not fit to be trusted with steam, and that moral and physical degeneracy will inevitably result from the changes which steam has produced in civilization.

The propensity of Americans for relic-hunting is well illustrated by the fact that every piece of the Paris Vendome column was found by the authorities of the republic except five, and four of the five had been secreted by adventurous Americans.

English geographers predict that the final laurels of Polar discovery will be wrung from their countrymen by German or Swedish navigators, unless a fresh effort is made by England at once.

A New York lawyer is said to have invented a type-setting machine which will do the work of four men with complete success. It is a somewhat curious fact that during this age of invention scarcely any improvement has been made in types or type setting since the early days of the art of printing.

PERSONAL.

The following story is related of Captain Colvocoresses, who was recently murdered in such a mysterious manner in Connecticut: During the war he had command of the corvette St. Mary's, and was on duty at Valparaiso, Chili, when a powerful Spanish squadron was threatening it. One morning he sailed into the harbor between the Spanish fleet and the city, and was informed by the Spanish admiral that he intended to bombard the city, and unless he moved his sloop the Spaniards would not be responsible for the consequences. This roused the ire of the Greek, and he hastened to inform the Spanish admiral, in language that was a model of explicitness and force, that the St. Mary's was anchored to his perfect satisfaction, and would remain where she was, and added further: "In the event of a bombardment of the city, I beg of you, sir, to have a care that none of your shot touch the hull of the St. Mary's. I am perfectly aware of the weakness of my corvette in comparison with the powerful squadron of her most Catholic majesty now blockading the port, but I beg, sir, to remind you that the flag that floats at her peak represents three thousand guns on the sea." The Chilenos attributed the immunity of their city for a long time afterward to his refusal, and whenever he appeared on shore made the hills ring with the vivas for the "brave American."

Two members of the Shaker community at Watervliet, Ohio, were married in Dayton last week. The bridegroom is about forty years old, and has been a member of the society nearly thirty years. The bride is about thirty. The formers, he had faithfully endeavored to keep the faith of the society, and live up to its doctrines and belief, but that now, convinced that their mode of life is unnatural, he is resolved to follow it no more.

Representative Wall, of Florida, is authority for the statement that, on Saturday last, Sumner told a large number of colored delegates and others who waited on him, that he would not oppose any ticket on which Mr. Wilson's name was placed. Doubtful.

The English literary and scientific world is just now a good deal exercised with a little bit of domestic romance. A gentleman well known in the world of letters and practical science, who during the last administration received a permanent post under government, has lately taken to himself a wife in the person of (to use his own language) "a blue eyed peasant girl." He writes to his friends that his bride is quite uneducated, and that her chief accomplishment is bird's nesting and climbing up apple trees. He has gone abroad with his wife, and means to educate her, believing fully that she is a born lady.

Pope Pius IX. attained the twenty-sixth year of his Pontificate last Sunday. He succeeded Pope Gregory XVI. on June 16, 1846, and was crowned on the 21st of the same month. Thousands of persons, representing all the nations of the earth, presented themselves at the Vatican and congratulated him on the enjoyment of the anniversary.

A large party of tourists from Austria has just arrived in New York. It includes the Count de Festetits, a near relative of Prince Metternich, Austrian Ambassador at Paris, and other noblemen desirous of studying our industrial institutions for the purpose of the forthcoming Vienna Industrial Exhibition. They are now in attendance at the Boston musical festival.

The Japanese Government has engaged Mr. Henry M. Smith, a graduate of the School of Mines of Columbia College, New York, to open a coal mine and erect a blast furnace in Japan.

The Hassler expedition has reached Valparaiso, and has begun to explore the waters of the Pacific Ocean. Prof. Agassiz and his assistants have secured many new scientific treasures; and his visit to the well-worn, familiar coast of Peru has already given it a new and strange interest.

THE OLD MEN'S GRANT MEETING.

Well, wife, we've had a meetin' at the school house on the hill;
And I was chosen chairman to keep the old men still,
But I found I couldn't do it: each man down his cane would plant,
And shout with all the voice he had, "I'm goin' in for Grant."

We talked about the four past years, what great things had been done;
How the nation's debt had melted like the snow before the sun;
We said, to keep it meltin', to do a better thing we can't,
Than to stick and hang together, and all go in for Grant!

We all looked through our spectacles upon the naked facts,
Then drew the veil of charity o'er giant Sumner's acts;
We said, "We like you, Sumner, but go your way we can't"—
Then made the school house echo with a rousing shout for Grant.

We didn't have much charity for Trumbull or for Schurz;
They stand around the party gate, a pair of snarling curs;
Their speeches cannot harm us nor make Grant toe their mark;
He's an old Galena tanner and knows how to handle Bark.

We talked about Grant's smokin—we thought it no great sin;
To vote that out of office, we might vote a worse one in;—
And seein' we were smokers, 'twouldn't do for us to rant,
So we lit our pipes together and smoked the health of Grant.

In the days of the rebellion none of us could go and fight,
But we read from morn till evening how he battled for the right.
He has been the nation's servant in the days of peace and war,
And treason melts before him like the smoke of his cigar.

After I'd adjourned the meetin' I give each a friendly grip;
We're every one determined to stand by the war-tried ship;
We will not topple over, we will not even slant,
But put our canes down good and strong, and stand up straight for Grant.

THE GERMANS.

They Resolutely Refuse to Accept Greeley, and Demand Another Candidate.

[From the St. Louis Anzeiger des Westens.]

The Westliche Post knows as well as we do, or can and should know, that the new movement to set Greeley aside is in progress and daily gaining in importance; that highly influential Democrats as well as Republicans—men whose names stand high throughout the whole country—are working with all their energy to set up new candidates, and that their success is anything but improbable. Under these circumstances the Westliche Post is committing a crime against the good cause, against itself and Senator Schurz, whose influence and position crafty demagogues in Cincinnati and elsewhere tried and are still trying to overcome. A crime we say when, under prevailing circumstances, it persists in puffing the Greeley party and in endeavoring to make America believe that the Germans are reconciled to Greeley's nomination. It is not so, and never will be so. The masses of the German people are even more energetically opposed to Greeley's nomination than the German press. The masses of the Germans require another Liberal candidate; a man for whom they can honorably vote and into whose hands they can without fear and conscientiously place the executive power. This new candidate will appear, and he has a far better chance of being indorsed at Baltimore than the absurd candidate whom the schemers, bummers and traffickers at Cincinnati managed through their intrigues to foist upon a confiding people. At any rate the great cause of political reform, which so auspiciously opened, but was so shamefully betrayed at Cincinnati, is worthy of an energetic effort to save it. This attempt will be made, indeed is even now in progress, and will very soon make itself felt.

Narrow-Gauge Railroad Convention.

A convention of more than ordinary importance assembled in St. Louis yesterday. All the narrow-gauge railroads in the United States are to be represented in conference by delegates, many of whom are among the most eminent civil engineers and railroad builders in the country. The topics to be discussed embrace such practical matters as the comparative cost of constructing and operating broad and narrow-gauge roads, and their relative efficiency in the development of new regions of country, as well as the saving in dead weight to be effected by the narrow-gauge, and the question whether its passenger coaches can be made safe, comfortable and popular with the traveling community. It is maintained by the advocates of the narrow-gauge system that while the ordinary gauge costs from twenty to a hundred thousand dollars a mile, a three feet gauge can be built upon the same bed at from fifty to sixty per cent. of this cost, while if reduced to two feet the cost will not be more than forty per cent. of the broad-gauge, the expenses of operation, of course, being correspondingly decreased. In Europe narrow-gauge roads are multiplying rapidly, and in some countries, such as Sweden and Norway, they are coming into general use to the exclusion of the wide gauge. In the United States also their popularity is fast increasing. Our own Commonwealth, Michigan, Mississippi, Rhode Island, Kansas, Colorado, Kentucky and Indiana have each chartered narrow-guage companies, and in some of them—notably in Colorado—several of these roads are in active and successful operation. If the important questions to be discussed by the Convention shall be satisfactorily settled, it is not improbable that its action may result in a new era of national developement and growth. Particularly in the remote and thinly populated trans-Mississippi States, where broad-gauges would be impracticable to build and ruinous to operate, are these roads likely to be of value. A number of eminent civil engineers from Canada and Europe are expected to be present at the Convention, the result of whose deliberations and action will be watched with great interest by all who are in any way concerned in railroad affairs.

S. B. McCracken, a leading Democrat of Michigan, has declared himself in favor of Grant. He says the war decided that there must hereafter be a central government at Washington to control national affairs, and it was useless to reopen the question. He also believed the Democrats insincere in their proposed acquiescence to the amendments to the Constitution, and would reopen them if in their power, and for that alone would oppose Democrats coming again into power. The Democracy had no great ideas with which to gain the support of the masses; so the people will not change the administration. The Cincinnati platform cowardly dodges all the vital questions of reform, and does not command the respect of the people; hence Grant and the Philadelphia platform receives his support.

What the Weak Need.

Why do the debilitated and feeble dread the summer? It is because heat is an exhausting element, and they are not in a condition to bear the new drain upon their languid systems, which they think must necessarily commence with the warm weather. But cannot this evil be obviated? Most indubitably it can. What these weaklings need—in fact, what nine-tenths of us need at this season—is an accession of physical vigor, and this desideratum can be secured with absolute certainty, by a course of the mightiest, yet mildest, of all vegetable tonics, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Thousands of men of business, mechanics and professional men, break down partially or wholly, under their summer labors, simply because they have neglected to reinforce the powers of nature in this way. To persons who use the celebrated invigorant and corrective regularly in hot weather, the exhaustion which excessive heat is apt to produce under other circumstances is unknown. They are not troubled with nausea, their appetites are good, their digestion excellent, and their habit of body all that can be desired. This for twenty years has been the uniform testimony of all who have taken the Bitters as a summer tonic and alternative. Its efficacy is due to the care and scrupulous fidelity to the teachings of experimental science, with which its medicinal ingredients have been culled from the vegetable kingdom, the admirable proportions in which they are combined and the unequalled purity of its stimulative basis.

SUMMER RESORTS.

LAKE HOUSE,
STONEBORO,
MERCER COUNTY, PA.

Persons wishing to engage rooms or other information may be made or addressed to

SAMUEL ROSENBURG,
Stoneboro, Pa.

This favorite Summer Resort is delightfully situated a few rods from Sandy Lake, the most beautiful sheet of water in Pennsylvania, and is well stocked with fish and pleasure boats of all kinds. A good Livery is also connected with this favorite resort.

Seekers for health, as well as for recreation and fine Rural Scenery, will find in the Chalybeate Spring, on the grounds, all the virtues of tonic treatment found at the most celebrated watering places. By chemical analysis, one gallon of water was found to contain 10.80 grains of mineral substances, consisting principally of Carbonate of Lime, held in solution by Carbonic Acid Gas, associated with small quantities of Carbonate of Protoxide of Iron, Sulphate of Magnesia, Chloride of Sodium, and traces of Silicia and organic matter.

The analysis was made by the Professor of Chemistry in the Laboratory of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

Bedford Mineral Springs, Pa.

This popular Summer Resort will be open for the reception of visitors on the 10th DAY OF JUNE.

The Bedford Railroad is completed to the town of Bedford, one and a half miles from the Spring.

The whole market for stocks, gold and vernments has declined with the absence m the street of leading operators. Erie ecially rules weak and is now below the rk at which Drew made his famous short e of 50,000 shares. At present figures he s a handsome profit in the transaction, as sale was made at 55.

The decline in the price of the stock nes in the face of increased earnings.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1872.

REMARKS—We made brief mention of the fact yesterday that the "grain corner" had given way, and that wheat had dropped 8c ℔ bushel and oats 10c. Notwithstanding this there seems to be little disposition on the part of holders here to "unload" at present, as they are laboring under the impression that prices here will not be effected by the spasmodic reduction in Chicago. However, some dealers look at matters from a different stand point, and are of the opinion that the top of the market has been reached, and that a reaction is bound to take place. Butter is a drug in the market. Eggs are a little firmer, but dull sale. Generally speaking the market was uniform, and trade is reported fair.

The following are the receipts of the leading articles of produce received for the past two weeks:

CONCENTRATED LYE—Sales Pennsylvania at $5 50 ℔ case.

GROCERIES—There is less excitement in the sugar market to-day than yesterday, but prices are more firm than ever, and the trade has generally settled down in the conviction that sugars will not be any lower until after the close of the fruit season. As we generally give our reasons for the "faith that is in us," we will do so now. We believe that sugars cannot revive from present prices because: First, refined sugars, until the recent advance, have been sold for ½c per ℔ less than cost of production; second, the prospect for a large demand for sugar is better than last year, as the crop of small fruit is larger than for many years; third, refined sugars have been sold up to the present time at one cent per pound less than at the same time last year, although the price of refining g ade is the same. Fourth, there is no accumulation of stock in the hands of the refiners, as is usual at this season of the year, consequently there will be no disposition to force sales. We regard the present position of sugar as a very strong one. Coffee continues to advance from day to day, and we wish our readers to take a note of our prediction that the advance in this article will be as sharp as that of sugar. Teas are very strong in price, and fully ten cents per ℔ higher in bond than they were one month ago. Following are the ruling rates of the market:

Coffee—Rio, choice, 26a26½c; prime 25a25½c; good 24½c; fair 24c; Java 28c; prime roasted coffee, in 1-℔ packages, 29c; loose 28c; lower grades 25a26c.

Refined Sugars—Granulated sugar 14c; Pulverized suggar 14½a15c; Crushed do 14½a15c; A do 12½c; B do 12½c; Extra C 12½c; Chesapeake extra C 11¾c; Knight's extra C 10¾c; C 10¾c; Union yellow 10¾c.

Raw Sugars—Choice New Orleans, 11a11½c; prime 10¾c; good 10c; fair 9½c; choice Porto Rico, 10½c; prime 10½c; Demerara, choice 11½c; good 11¼c.

Syrups—Union syrup 75c; H & E fancy 65c; H & E extra 60c; H & E No 1 55c; Launder 50c; common 35a45c.

Rice—Carolina, choice, 9½c; prime, 9¼c; good, 9c; Rangoon, 8a8½c; Patna, 8½a9c.

Spices—Grain pepper, 24c; do Pimento, 16c; Cassia 50c; cloves, 25c; nutmegs $1 25.

EGGS—Sales are reported at 15c per dozen.

FEATHERS—Sales of No 1 at 78a80c; in round lots with the usual advance from stores. Mixed lots ranged from 40a60c ℔ ℔.

FLOUR—Receipts 1,260 bbls. This late "drop" in the price of wheat in Chicago has not as yet effected the price of flour in this market, but it is hard to tell what a day may bring forth. We quote as follows: Spring wheat $8 75a9 00a9 25 per bbl; winter wheat $9 50a9 75a10 00.

GRAIN—The following are the receipts since our last:

Wheat, sacks	161	Corn, sacks	340
Oats, sacks	1,520	Rye, sacks	118
Barley, sacks	139

The late "topple" in prices in the West completely demoralized the grain market; not that prices are much lower, but that holders seem "at sea," not knowing exactly what to do. The matter will be settled ere long, when all parties concerned will have to accept the situation with the best grace they can. The best prices that could be obtained to-day were as follows: Red winter wheat $1 85; white $1 90. Oats—white 50c; mixed 48c. Corn—prime yellow 63c; mixed 61c. Rye 90a93c. Barley nominal.

HAY—The supply is large and the market dull. We note sales of baled on the wharf and from depot $23a25a28 ℔ ton.

HOPS—Sales at 65a70c ℔ ℔ for '71s.

HUSKS—Prices have gone up. We quote as follows: Prepared husks $ 00 per ton; No 2 $50 per ton. Demand fair.

TALLOW—We quote sales of rendered 7½a8c.

WHISKY—Market firm. We quote high wines at 92a93 ℔ gallon.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1872.

Cattle.

The run of cattle to-day has been heavy. Buyers are not quite so plenty as usual, and those here are bearing down on the market pretty hard. They complain of lower markets east, and say they must buy accordingly. Trade rules slow, with prices from ¼ to ½c lower. At this time there are a good deal of stock in the yards unsold. Following are the figures at which the different grade of cattle are changing hands: Extra, 1,400 to 1,500 ℔s cattle, $6 90; prime, 1,300 ℔s steers, $6 75; good, 1,200 ℔s steers, $6 50 to $6 60; fair, 1,000 ℔s steers, $5 90 to $6 25; common, $5 75 to $5 90; bulls, $3 00a4 00; cows, $4 00 to $4 25.

Hogs.

The run of hogs fair to-day. There are not a great many hogs selling, as most of the buyers have enough for a day or so. The advance obtained yesterday has been sustained, and what sales have taken place were at about $4 40 for the best tops. The feeling is fair, and unless the receipts come heavy, the market will rule steady. Following are the prices at which the different kinds of hogs are selling: Extra Philadelphia $4 40; prime Philadelphia $4 25 to $4 35; good Yorkers $4 15 to $4 25; common Yorkers $4 00 to $4 10.

Sheep.

The run of sheep continues heavy. The market is very dull and depressed with the inclination downward. Holders do not like to sell at figures offered for stock, but as the supply is heavy and the probability that the market will go still lower, they are letting them go. Sheep are a full dollar per hundred lower than this time two weeks ago. Following are the prices ruling: Extra, 90 ℔ sheep, $5 50 to $5 65; good, 80 to 85 ℔ sheep, $5 00 to $5 25; fair 70 to 75 ℔, $4 50 to $4 75; common from $2 00 ℔ head to $4 00 ℔ 100 ℔s.

COAL MARKETS.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Stocks active and higher. Erie sold up from 51 to 55⅜, closing at 55; Canton to par; Quicksilver to 40 with a general advance of near one per cent throughout the list. The market closed strong with an advancing tendency. It is rumored that the famous bargain of Daniel Drew to sell 50,000 shares of Erie at 55, deliverable any time to December 31, has been compromised and the money withdrawn from trust. The German houses have made large purchases of Erie. It is rumored that Gen. McClellan, S. L. M. Barlow, Wm. B. Duncan, Samuel D. Babcock, Watts Sherman, Charles Lansing, Gibson and Cowans and E. H. Green are likely to enter into the new direction, and the first named be President, and close a running arrangement be made with the Atlantic and Great Western, possibly the lease of the latter to the Erie. Other reports mention that Blackstone, of the Chicago and Alton, and Jay, of the Michigan Central, are mentioned for the Erie Presidency, but the first statement is generally believed. It is reported that the canal commissioners of this State have decided to pay the bonds due in July.

St. Louis	St. Johns	Hamilton, 10 A. M.

THE marks last evening indicated three feet eleven inches, and falling slowly. The weather was very hot.

THE towboat Ajax arrived at Louisville on Monday.

THE price which Capt. Schultze paid for the City of Cairo was $35,000.

THE steamer Diamond sunk a barge of coal between Cincinnati and Louisville.

THE Collier and barges arrived at Wheeling yesterday morning all right. She left for St. Louis about noon.

THE steamer St. Johns, Captain Hamilton, leaves this day at 10 A. M. for St. Louis and intermediate points.

THE steamer Granite State, Captain Kerr, will arrive this day and take her departure on Friday for Parkersburg and Portsmouth.

FIFTEEN barges of coal have been lost by accident during the present run. One was lost by striking the Bellaire bridge pier.

THE Leonora blew out a cylinder head at Gunpowder on Saturday. She will repair at Louisville, and enter the Louisville and Madison trade.

THE St. James is carrying tobacco from Higginsport and intermediate points to Cincinnati for 50c ℔ hhd, and passengers for $1 each. Both were $1 50 before the Wildwood extended her trips to Higginsport.

CAPT. VAN HOOK has had the Henry Yeager's hull caulked from top to bottom; her upper decks and lower decks have been so greatly strengthened that it is believed they'll now bear any weight of bulk or sacked grain or iron or cattle or soldiers.

OVER thirty towboats with coal have arrived from Pittsburgh on the present rise, the last arrivals being the John Gilmore, Jas. Gilmore, Dart, Eagle, Hercules, Leopard, Stella, Abe McDonald, A. J. Baker, D. T. Lane, Sam. Parker.

CAPTAIN LOCKHART says that the canal will be closed for completing repairs on the 25th of July unless there is a rise in the river, in which case the closing will be postponed. The canal will remain closed for six weeks.

TUESDAY'S Louisville Courier says: The towboat Sam. Brown, the advance of the coal fleet that left Pittsburgh on the late rise, arrived early yesterday morning with twelve barges of coal. She will leave for Cairo and Saint Louis to-day with eighteen barges.

ON and after to-day, the Signal Service Bureau will include Keokuk, in their river telegrams, giving the rise and fall of the rivers. During the summer or next fall stations will be established at Little Rock, Quincy and at some points on the lower Missouri.

THE U. S. Mail packets on the slackwater leave daily at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. These boats are side wheelers, and were built expressly for the trade, and are in charge of careful and attentive officers. For further information call on Captain A. S. Carlile on the wharfboat.

CAPTAIN SAMUEL STRADER, brother of the late Jacob Strader, of Cincinnati, died suddenly at Madison, Ind., on Saturday morning. The deceased was about sixty-three years old, and was a pioneer steamboat commander, having resided in Madison many years.

CAPT. HENRY C. RICHMOND, an old river man, has got tired of being ashore, and has taken charge of the steamer Mary Davage, loading for St. Louis. He will leave on the present water, and will not overload. The Captain has our best wishes for success. Mr. W. D. Armstrong, a clever and accommodating clerk, takes charge of the office.

THE steamer Thomas W. Means and barges, commanded by Capt. Will Kirker, is advertised to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville at 5 P. M. to-day, without fail. The Captain does not propose to delay his departure a minute after the advertised time, and shippers can rely on their freight going through promptly and safely.

CAPT. P. CONRAD has contracted for the building of two barges at Metropolis, Ill. They are intended to be used in the St. Louis and New Orleans trade, and will each be of the following dimensions: 175 feet long, 30 feet beam, 6 feet hold. These barges will cost $5,000 each. The Thompson Dean, it is understood, will load in the line at St. Louis for New Orleans.

CAPT. JAMES H. PEPPER, of the Thompson Dean, has been interviewing Captain Wm. Hambleton, of Mound City, in regard to the enlargement of the Mary E. Forsyth, and finds that seventy-five feet is to be added to her length, eighteen feet to her width and six feet to her depth of hold. This will make her about a five thousand ton boat. When this mammoth undertaking is to be accomplished, however, is not yet decided.

THE Andy Baum made the run from Memphis to Hale's Point in twelve hours, and to Cairo in twenty-nine hours, and at no time carried over one hundred and twenty pounds of steam. The latter part of the run was made under some trifling difficulties which decreased her speed materially. It is thought that she can come to Cairo inside of twenty-four hours without any trouble. She raises when she runs, and needs considerable weight on her head to make her run well.

THE Louisville Commercial of Tuesday says: The river at this point is again slowly receding, but navigation continues good in every direction. The weather yesterday was fair and warm. Business at the city wharf was rather quiet, with a small list of arrivals and departures.

The following towboats from Pittsburgh, with tows of coal, had arrived up to 6 P. M. yesterday: Sam Brown, Tom Rees, John Dippold and Tom Dodsworth. Others were expected last night, a large number of which are destined for points below.

THE last session of the Missouri Legislature passed a bill, which was approved by Governor, prohibiting any municipal corporation within the State from levying a wharfage tax upon steamers navigating rivers flowing within or past its border. The city of St. Louis contested the legality of the law, and entered suit against the steamers Susie Silver, Great Republic and other vessels, to compel them to pay according to previously existing municipal regulations. A few days ago Judge Cullen decided the Legislative act valid: In the course of his remarks, the Judge said: "A legislative grant of a power to a corporation does not confer a vested right which cannot be destroyed; on the contrary, the Legislature can modify, amend and repeal a charter or law affecting corporations. The next Legislature may abolish the municipal corporation of St. Louis, if so inclined."

ST. LOUIS.—The Democrat of Sunday says: Capt. Thomas W. Rea is up from Metropolis. He thinks the hull of the Belle of Shreveport will be completed in about one month. While there Alf. Cutting launched a barge which is for sale, and is 160 feet long, 33 feet beam and 5 feet hold. The Illinois made the run to Alton on her last trip in two hours and a half. The Tidal Wave, a short time since, tied, ran forty-one miles up stream in eight hours. Where are the Lee and Natchez now? The sternwheel steamer Minnie was sold yesterday by the St. Louis and Arkansas River Packet Company to Anthony Sauer, of Kansas City, for $8,000. She is to run between Lexington and Kansas City, carrying ties in connection with the railroad. She was built for the Mepham Brothers, at Pittsburgh, in September, 1865, at a cost of $35,000, was sold to the St. Louis and Arkansas Packet Company in May, 1871, for $10,000, who expended about $11,000 on her in docking and repairing. She is 162 feet in length, 32 feet in width and 5-foot hold, draws 18 inches light, and carries 450 tons. She also has two boilers, 24 feet long, 40 inches diameter, and 2 cylinders 4 feet stroke and 14 inches diameter. This makes the fourth boat taken from this line the present season, two being sold—the Sioux City to Durfee and Peck, and the one above named. The other two were sunk—the Sallie, on March 3, at Swan Lake, in Arkansas river, and the Columbia at the wharf, February 24 by a cake of ice—both being total wrecks. The company have now only the Nile and the Little Rock belonging to them.

MEDICAL.

Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
Raze out the written troubles of the brain,
And with some sweet oblivious antidote
Cleanse the stuffed bosom of that perilous stuff
Which weighs upon the heart?

TAKE

MEXICAN FLUID EXT. BUCHU!

The Greatest Diuretic Ever Disc'd.

THERE IS NO TONIC LIKE IT!

THE PUREST AND MOST RELIABLE BUCHU PREPARED IS THE

Mexican Fluid Ext. Buchu,

"A positive and specific Remedy" for Non-Retention or Incontinence of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Bladder and Kidneys, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculous Gravel or Brick Dust Deposits and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and all Diseases or Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, and Dropsical Swellings existing in men, women or children.

HOLMES & CO.'S

Fluid Extract of Mexican Buchu.

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or abuses attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Wakefulness, Pain in the Back, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Hot Hand, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face and Pallid Countenance.

FEMALES—In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy—as in Chlorosis, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression, Ulcerated or Schirrhous state of the Uterus, Sterility, and for Complaints incident to the Sex, whether arising from indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the Decline or Change of Life. It is prescribed extensively by the most eminent Physicians and Midwives, after Confinements, and for Enfeebled and Delicate Constitutions of both sexes and all ages, attended with any of the above Diseases or Symptoms.

No Family Should be Without It!

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follow Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that these are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases," Insanity and Consumption. Many are aware of the cause of their sufferings, but few will confess. The records of the Insane Asylum, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion. The Constitution once affected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which "Holmes & Co.'s Mexican Fluid Extract Buchu" invariably does.

Retailed by all Druggists at 75 CENTS PER BOTTLE, of 6 ounces, or 8 days medicine, at once placing this valuable compound within the reach of the patient, no matter how poor.

BEWARE of counterfeits. Ask for Mexican Fluid Extract Buchu, Holmes & Co., Proprietors, New York city.

BEWARE of Spurious Buchu Mixtures, prepared by self-styled doctors, which are kept before the public by notorious advertisements.

POLITICAL.

The Louisiana Republican Conventions—The Liberal Wing Repudiate Greeley.

BATON ROUGE, June 19.—The Grant Republican State Nomination Convention met to-day. T. T. Allen was elected temporary chairman. His election was regarded as a test favoring Kellogg's nomination for Governor. A credentials committee was appointed and the Convention adjourned till 7 P. M.

The Pinchbeck Republican Convention reassembled here. The Committee on Platform appointed was instructed to include a declaration against Greeley and Brown. Adjourned till 7 P. M.

The impression prevails that the Conventions will not fuse, but both nominate a State ticket, and that Kellogg will be the nominee of one and Pinchbeck of the other for Governor.

Progress of the Coalition in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 19.—The Democratic State Convention assembled to-day, effected a permanent organization and adjourned to nine o'clock to-morrow. W. W. Reynolds, of Benton county, was made Chairman, a Vice President chosen for each Congressional district, and the usual number of secretaries. About three hundred and fifty delegates are present and all the counties represented. Greeley and Brown will undoubtedly be indorsed.

The Liberal State Convention passed resolutions to-day reaffirming the platform of 1868, ratifying the Cincinnati platform, and calling on all good people to join them in an effort to elect the Cincinnati ticket. The Convention adjourned until 11 A. M. to-morrow.

Maryland Democratic State Convention.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—The Democratic State Convention to select delegates to the National Democratic Convention assembled this morning. After the usual preliminary organization, J. T. Earle, of Queen Anne county, was chosen permanent President. Hon. Montgomery Blair, ex-Governor Phillip Francis Thomas, ex-State Treasurer Robert W. Fowler, and A. G. W. Knott were chosen delegates at large to the National Convention. Recess until 4 P. M.

On the reassembling of the Convention district delegates were named and selected. A resolution was offered instructing the delegates to oppose the nomination by the National Convention of party candidates for President and Vice President as inexpedient, in view of existing political complications, and to support instead an indorsement of Greeley and Brown and the Cincinnati platform. The resolution was received with great applause, both from members and from the galleries. A member suggested that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Resolutions and moved to that effect, pending the consideration of which a motion to adjourn sine die was entertained and carried. All the counties and city districts were fully represented in the Convention, and every delegation, with the exception of those from Cecil and Harford counties, were unanimous in favor of the Cincinnati movement. The delegation to the National Convention are a unit in favor of the Cincinnati platform and nominations.

Pennsylvania Delegates Will Vote for Greeley.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—It is conceded at the Democratic headquarters in this city that the Pennsylvania delegates to the Baltimore Convention will vote for Greeley.

The Texas Democracy Table a Resolution to Indorse Greeley.

CORSICAN, TEXAS, June 19.—The Democratic Convention to-day adopted a platform, recognizing the Cincinnati movement as a commendable effort at reform and expressing profound satisfaction at the avowal by that body of the supremacy of civil law. Resolutions were adopted instructing the Congressmen to demand federal protection on our frontier against Indians and Mexicans, condemning the efforts in Congress to control the State land interest, and also appointing a legal committee to investigate the tenure by which State officers hold their position and report on the same to the Legislature. A motion to indorse Greeley and Brown, and to instruct the delegates to the Baltimore Convention, was tabled by a large majority. On the seventh ballot for two Congressmen at large, to which the State is entitled under the new apportionment, Col. Willis, of Galveston, and R. Q. Mills, of Navarro, were elected. The Convention will probably adjourn to-night.

Alabama Democratic Convention.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 19.—The Democratic State Convention, which is the largest ever held in this State, will nominate a straight State ticket and Congressmen-at-large. They will leave the electoral ticket open for consultation; also the subject of co-operation with Liberal Republicans. The feeling of the Convention is largely for Greeley and Brown. Resolutions will be reported to-morrow. No nominations have yet been made.

MASSILLON, OHIO.

Its Present and Future—New Railway Facilities—Manufacturing Establishments—Mineral and Agricultural Wealth—Churches, Newspapers and Other Moral Agents.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

MASSILLON, O., June 13, 1872.

Massillon, Stark county, Ohio, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, one hundred and ten miles west of Pittsburgh, twenty years hence, will not require to be thus formally introduced to your readers to claim recognition; for, if the "signs of the times" have any significance, this place has already entered upon a career of prosperity which is destined to be widely extended within the next few years. Your correspondent speaks advisedly in asserting that as a manufacturing town it presents advantages superior to any other point between Pittsburgh and Chicago along the line of the great railway uniting those cities; and its importance to-day as a business center is far above what the census tables of population would indicate of, say six thousand inhabitants. Stark county has long been famous for its agricultural wealth—the "banner county" for wheat for many years, and, it is likely, will long continue to contest the claims of its rivals in the same direction. But, it is in another field that Stark county is destined to find its future greatness, viz: its vast mineral resources; and Massillon, from its location, has already been recognized as the point where the great industries, the out-growth of that great wealth, will take form. We say this fact is recognized, because apart from our own convictions, we can point to the opening of the railway in this locality in proof. Within three years we have been placed in direct communication with Cleveland, sixty-five miles, via Clinton, and now we have the Lake Shore and Tuscarawas Valley Railroad almost completed to this point from its northern terminus; while southward down the valley in the direction of its junction with the Pan Handle Railroad, hundreds of lazy workmen are engaged in grading, &ct, so that it is but the question of a few months when we shall find ourselves securing a most important commercial center, and with advantages that are bound to attract capitalists and develop the wealth of coal and iron, which for hundreds of ages has slumbered in those hills. We feel constrained to say that outside of those directly interested in this new railroad enterprise, comparatively little is known of its importance. At a future day we hope to return to the subject, and to demonstrate some of the results promised, and will only add now that Cleveland will feel the impulse of this new artery, hardly second to that which opened up the coal fields of the Mahoning Valley to her use, and doubled her population within ten years.

Massillon, be it known, is also a canal town. The Ohio canal, which unites Lake Erie and the Ohio river at Cleveland and Portsmouth, passes our very door. Two blast furnaces are in active operation, viz: the "Massillon Furnace" of J. P. Burton, and the "Volcano," of Lee & Steern. The coal, iron and limestone found in the immediate vicinity enable the proprietors to defy competition as to price or quality. Our great want, and which we hope soon to be able to announce among the new enterprises of this place, is a rolling mill, with its adjuncts of nail factory, &c. Messrs. Russel & Co.'s Agricultural Implement Works of this place, covering about five acres of ground and employing from three to five hundred hands, are well known among all interested in the farming interests of the country. Their machines have strong rivals, but they hold their own. The Excelsior Works, also engaged in the agricultural implement manufactory, are also an established success, and a steady demand exists for the machines turned out by that firm, of which E. Bayliss, Esq., is principal.

The stone quarry of Suter & Co., which turns out the celebrated Massillon grind stones, the best stone for "dry grinding" yet discovered, and which finds a market in every manufacturing town in the Union, is also within the corporate limits. We have a carriage manufactory, G. Archer & Co., which turns out first class work at reasonable prices, and is fast growing in favor, and must soon enlarge their facilities to fill their orders. Our stores are well supplied with all that can tempt the unwary possessor of a greenback. Our city is well supplied with water; Sippo Lake, a great natural reservoir, affording a never failing supply. Our gas works, recently enlarged, now afford no room for complaint, excepting, mayhap, the price, which, considering the price of coal in this locality, we think our gas light rather dear.

We have an opera house which, for magnitude and style, would do credit to a city of fifty thousand inhabitants; but the enterprise which has given this to the city only anticipated by a very few years what Massillon is to be.

The First National Bank, the Union National Bank and the Exchange Bank, supply a need which all understand. Our churches, two Catholic, one Episcopalian, one Presbyterian, one Methodist, one German Reformed, one Sectarian, one Disciple, and one Colored, are generally well attended, and upon the whole, we believe, will compare favorably with any of her sister cities morally. We have two weekly newspapers, the American and the Independent, and as the editors are avowed Republicans, we cannot conceive why they do not unite their interests and give us the benefit of the union. Massillon cannot afford that support to the two newspapers which they deserve, and a Democratic organ could not exist in these parts; for though we have people who vote that ticket, they borrow their papers as a rule.

PALMETTO.

THE Cabot Company, of Brunswick, Maine, in order to enlarge their cotton mill, moved their large smoke stack chimney—seventy-eight feet high, seven feet nine inches square at base, and five feet square at top, containing more than 40,000 bricks, and weighing more than one hundred tons—twenty feet without rollers or balls or guys or braces to steady it—one of the greatest feats ever performed in the State. It was planned and carried out by Superintendent Benjamin Greens, not one of those engaged ever having witnessed such a feat. It was accomplished by building such ways as are used in launching ships, surfaces planed, greased, chimney wedged up, and moved by two jackscrews in four and a half hours. The flues were disconnected from the boiler at one o'clock P. M., and nine and a half o'clock the same evening the flues were again connected, fires going, and steam up.

A Howl and Its Echo.

[From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.]

The dismal howl which the Press has set up against Gen. Hartranft is setting various singular echoes afloat, and producing various results. The first impression made by this unexpected outburst may have been one of anxiety, mingled with intense curiosity. People to whom noise is everything shook in their shoes, and thought that the Republican world was coming to an end. As this first fright passed by, and these timid persons found that nothing was broken, their fear gave way to curiosity, and they began to ask, Why is this thus? And even this curiosity loses its zest as closer scrutiny reveals the palpable personality of the Press's persecution. Its howl is hollow. Its cry against the gallant soldier who heads the Republican columns has no heartiness in it save the heartiness of individual bitterness. It is anger without a cause, or at least without a good cause. And as the Press "sets the wild echoes flying," and shrieks for the sacrifice of a man for whom it ludicrously continues to profess the warmest personal kindliness, people already begin to turn away from the noisy clamor with cool indifference, or else they throw up their windows in despair and order the exasperating organ-grinder to "move on!"

The echoes to the howl of the Press become daily more distinct and intelligible; and as they shape themselves into definite form, the public begins to understand the meaning of it better. Some of those echoes take this shape, as the Press howls for a defeat in October and a victory in November.

"A vote for Hartranft on the 13th, is worth two for Grant in November."—Press, Oct. 5, 1868.

"Every thousand majority for Hartranft in October, means an additional thousand for Grant in November."—Press, October 9, 1868.

"One Republican vote to-morrow is worth two on the third of November."—Press, October 12, 1868.

"Republicans of Pennsylvania! Upon you rests the greatest of all responsibilities. Your potential voice will decide the whole controversy by making easy the election of the Great Captain in November."—Press, October 13, 1868.

When the Press directs its howl against the fitness of General Hartranft, we catch this echo:

"Let not a moment pass without doing something for Hartranft!"—Press, October 5, 1868.

And when the Press howls—no, it does not give a good, hearty howl, but only a poor whine—when it assails General Hartranft's official integrity, here comes the echo again:

"John F. Hartranft, as Auditor General, laid the way for the repeal of the tax on real estate, by securing the collection of all outstanding taxes on corporations, and the payment of all moneys due the State by collectors and sureties. He it was who induced the Attorney General to sue out and save for the State thousands of dollars which would otherwise have been lost."—Press, Oct. 5, 1868.

And when the Press howls out melancholy predictions of defeat because General Hartranft bears our standard, the echo comes flying back once more:

"Hartranft and Campbell, who led the way to many a victory during the war, will marshal their old comrades to a yet greater triumph in October."—Press, Oct. 5, 1868.

The howl of the Press against the Republican party of Pennsylvania is unmusical; but as the ear becomes accustomed to it, it loses its alarming character entirely. When the Press made its partial confession that it was in a rage with Senator Cameron, it robbed its howl of all its terrors. As soon as it came to be understood that it was a personal crusade against an honest man and a gallant soldier the effect was lost, and the people, taking up Bottom's prediction, cry out with one accord, "Let him roar again! Let him roar again!"

The assault upon General Hartranft by the Press has been a most ill-considered one. It meets with no sympathizing response, because everybody sees a personal spleen in it. General Hartranft sturdily refused to whitewash the great Evans War Claim Fraud, while the Press labored with conspicuous zeal to accomplish that result; and when the people of Pennsylvania hear the Press howling against the man who would not consent that three hundred thousand dollars should be taken out of the public treasury and divided among the members of the Evans ring, the echo which they return to the angry howl takes shape in the words of Vincentio:

"O 'Evans!' what stuff is here?"

The New Postal Law.

Concerning the new postal code regulations, the Postmaster General replies to a telegram from the New York Postmaster, stating that the following are the rates to be charged on third-class printed matter, viz: On all printed occasional publications, transient newspapers, magazines, hand-bills, posters, unsealed circulars, book manuscripts, proof sheets, corrected proof sheets (passing between author and publisher), sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, cards, plain and ornamental paper, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cutting bulbs, roots and scions, a postage of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, on packages to one address, to be prepaid by postage stamps affixed. On all books (other than those printed by order of Congress), postage at two cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof, limited to four pounds weight. On samples of merchandise, metals, ores and mineralogical specimens, two cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof, packages limited to twelve ounces in weight.

A provision is inserted for the benefit of large cities, which reads as follows: "That all domestic letters deposited in any postoffice for mailing, on which the postage is wholly unpaid or paid less than one full rate as required by law, except letters lawfully free, and duly certified letters of soldiers, sailors and marines in the service of the United States, shall be sent by the Postmaster to the Dead Letter Office in Washington: Provided, that in large cities and adjacent districts of dense population, having two or more postoffices within a distance of three miles of each other, any letter mailed at one of such offices and addressed to a locality within the delivery of another of such offices, which shall have been inadvertently prepaid at the drop or local letter rate of postage only, may be forwarded to its destination through the proper office, charged with the amount of the deficient postage, to be collected on delivery." It was proposed through all stages up to the conference committee that the postage to be collected should be double the regular amount, but the conference committee refused to agree to it, and the law stands as above quoted.

This does not affect the present law, which allows a letter with a three cent postage stamp, no matter what may be due upon it, to be forwarded to its destination. In such cases the amount due is to be collected on delivery.

THE foreign commerce of the port of New York continues to exhibit the same features as for some time past—large imports of merchandise and small exports of produce—although the imports last week were smaller than for many weeks past. The total is $6,182,999 in merchandise, of which $1,086,419 were dry goods, while the exports of produce were only $3,831,742. The exports of specie and bullion were $3,782,639 for the week. The imports of merchandise at the port of New York from January 1st to date this year were $202,388,552, against $163,015,643 in 1871, and $130,502,543 in 1870. The exports of produce from the port of New York from January 1st to the 8th instant were $92,371,927, against $107,616,441 in 1871 and $75,388,104 in 1870. The exports of specie and bullion for the same time were $30,498,864 in 1872, $34,395,861 in 1871, and $13,462,676 in 1870. As compared with last year, it will be seen that the imports of merchandise have been largely increased, while the exports of produce and specie have decreased.

THE finest specimens of men and women, in point of physique, in Brazil, are the negroes from sixteen to thirty year old, especially the Minas, a shrewd, intelligent, proud race. In the past they have given their owners and the government great trouble, especially in the interior, not taking kindly to slavery; preserving in many instances their own language, by which they were better able to organize schemes of revolt, being vastly superior in intelligence to many of their masters. Among them suicide was quite common, they preferring death to servitude.

Killed on the Central

On Tuesday evening a lady and gentleman of evident respectability, took passage on the 8:20 P. M., train east, having bought tickets for Philadelphia. When the train had reached New Florence the lady became uneasy about the continued absence of her husband, who, about an hour previous, had started for the smoking car. The conductor was applied to by the lady, who searched the cars but the gentleman could not be found. The wife thinking that her husband had missed the train, got off a Altoona and waited for the next train, but he was not on board it. She then continued her journey to Philadelphia. At an early hour yesterday morning the remains of the missing husband were found on the track, not far from New Florence. How the unfortunate man met his fate unless he fell off the platform of one of the cars, is not known. The mangled body was placed in a coffin and taken charge of by the railroad company for identification. The name of the deceased has not reached us.

SUIT IN EQUITY.

Proceedings Against the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Gas-Coal and Coke Company.

In the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, Messrs. Kerr & Guthrie, counsel for Messrs. Wm. M. Faber and John Meskimen, late partners as Meskimen & Faber, filed a bill in equity against the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Gas-Coal and Coke Company. The bill sets forth that prior to October 1st, 1864, the complainants owned certain coal property in Fayette county; that on the date mentioned, they made an agreement to convey this property to the above named company, and to receive in payment capital stock in the company amounting to $58,000, the company also to liquidate a mortgage amounting to $8,490. That when this article of agreement was made, the company was not then incorporated but contemplated incorporation; that in the same month they obtained a charter; that the property was assigned to the company, and stock certificates amounting to $58,000 were received by the complainants; that the stock was received solely in payment of the property conveyed, and for no other purpose, no money having been paid for the stock; that prior to October 1st, 1864, the complainants were partners in the coal business, and that the property named was partnership property; that upon settlement of the partnership business, Meskimen was found to be indebted to Faber $10,875, for which the firm property was liable, and to secure which Meskimen assigned to Faber the stock in the company aforesaid. The complainants further represent that they are advised that the stock, issued to them in payment of the property purchased by the company before its incorporation, and not having been paid for in money, as required by the act of incorporation, is fraudulent and void, and that the company has refused to recognize the same as valid, and has filed a bill in equity asking the Court to direct the same to be cancelled; that the company has had possession of the property for eight years, much of it having been used or destroyed, and nearly all the coal mined. Having no other adequate remedy, complainants ask a writ of injunction commanding the company to refrain from selling or otherwise disposing of the property, or committing waste of any description, and that, until a final decree be rendered, a receiver be appointed to take charge of the property of the company, carry on the mines, and receive the rents and profits; that the agreement of October 1st, 1864, be cancelled, and the property re-conveyed to the complainants.

The bill was filed, and will come up for argument at a future day.

NOT AN OLD STORY.

The Allegheny Poor Farm Again.

In yesterday's COMMERCIAL was given the result of the investigation into the management of the Allegheny Poor Farm, which was made at the office of Alderman D. L. Smith on Tuesday. It will be remembered that a woman named McDonald left the farm on Monday last on account of receiving brutal treatment at the hands of some of the favored paupers. An investigation was made, when the Superintendent promised to reform matters at the institution, and upon the strength of this promise the woman was induced to return to the Home. The woman remained at the institution until last evening, when she returned to the office of Alderman Smith and related her day's experience as follows:

When she arrived at the Home, she repaired to her room and in a few minutes was called to supper. She then went to the dining room, carrying her child with her, and sat down at the table, but nothing had been spread. She soon learned the object the favored paupers had in calling her, as she had no sooner taken her seat, then they heaped a tirade of abuse upon her, and also accused her of giving false reports in the city, etc. Mr. Johnson, the Superintendent, was also in the room but did not interfere. The poor women stood this abuse a few minutes, when she picked up her child and weeping bitterly went to her room. The Superintendent saw her leave and knew that she had no supper. Yesterday her condition was not improved. Her child even was abused. When creeping about the hall some of the older children would kick and otherwise abuse it. The Superintendent met her yesterday, and instead of stating to her that she would be protected, said he would send her to the workhouse. The woman now realized fully her situation, and left for the city.

The Alderman listened to her statement, and again provided her with quarters at his own expense, until a thorough investigation can be had. The members of the Poor Board have again been summoned, and another investigation will be inaugurated to-day. It is to be hoped that the investigation will be impartial, and if the statements of this woman are found to be correct, that the defects in the management will be remedied, and full justice done hereafter to all the inmates.

THIEF CAPTURED.

Stolen Bonds Recovered.

An account of the robbery of the Iron and Glass Savings Bank of Birmingham on last Friday has already been published in these columns. Some $23,000 in bonds were stolen, principally those of the Mt. Oliver Inclined Plane Company and the Pittsburgh and Ormsby Passenger Railway Company. As soon as the loss was discovered, information was given to Chief Irwin, of this city, and Justice Krehan telegraphed to detectives east and west to keep a watch for any of the bonds which might be offered for sale. No trace of the bonds was discovered until Wednesday, when Justice Krehan received a telegram from Philadelphia to the effect that one of the bonds had been offered for sale in that city.

He immediately ordered the prompt arrest of any one negotiating the bonds. The following telegram received last night from Philadelphia tells the rest:

"Walter Williams, alias William Mitchell, who was convicted in Pokeepsie, in October 1869, and who was one of the gang that escaped from Sing Sing last summer by means of a tug boat, has been captured by Lieut. Kass, of the Eighth Police District. When taken into custody he had on his person $21,800 in railroad and other bonds stolen from the Iron and Glass Bank at Birmingham, Pa., last week."

As soon as Justice Krehan obtained this information, he and the cashier of the bank left for Philadelphia to take the proper steps in the case.

THE PEOPLE'S COLLEGE.

Anniversary Exercises at the Pittsburgh High School—Exhibition of the Normal Class.

The anniversary exercises of the academical and normal departments of the High School are in progress. Last night the normal class gave an exhibition in the chapel attached to the institution, a very large audience being present, including many of our local notables. Following was the programme:

Music; Prayer; Music; Essay, "The Beautiful," Martha L. Jones; Select Reading, "The Wagoner of the Alleghenies," Kate P. Lupton; Essay, "Little Things," E. Rebecca Noble; Music; Select Reading, "Maud Muller," Mary J. Metcalfe; Essay, "A Liberal Education," Kate C. Richards; Select Reading, "Down to the Dust," Ellen Hileman; Music; Essay, "A Personal Reminiscence," Margaret E. Muhlanbring; Select Reading, "The Art Pilgrim," Harriet Wiley; Essay, "Life Compared to a Stocking," Elizabeth E. Miller; Music; Select Reading, "Mrs. Gamp's Tea Party," Matilda J. Shields; Essay, "Whitewash Morally Considered," Eleanor Norris; Select reading, "A Little Cloud," Mary J. Welsh.

All the pupils acquitted themselves creditably, some of the young lady readers especially. At the close of the evening's exercises, it was announced that the graduating ceremonies would take place at Library Hall to-night.

THAT CARRIAGE DRIVE.

The Defendants Held for Court.

Yesterday afternoon there was a hearing before Mayor Blackmore in the case of F. Kalfert and Jacob Ochse, charged with robbery from the person on oath of Rose Smith. Prosecutrix had attended a ball at Weyman's tavern on Fifth avenue and Gist street. She left the ball at an early hour in the morning, leaving the tavern in a carriage. Two persons were in the carriage with her but she could not tell who they were. While in the vehicle she alleged that she was given some drugged liquor out of a bottle and was subsequently robbed of a watch and two rings. Since the suit had been entered the watch and one ring and the sum of twenty-six dollars had been returned to her, the money being for damage done to her wardrobe. She could not positively identify Kalfert as having been one of the persons in the carriage but subsequently witnesses were produced who testified to Kalfert and Ochse entering the carriage with the woman. Ochse waived a hearing and he and Kalfert gave bail in the sum of $1,000 each to answer the charge at Court.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Academy of Music.

The old story of "a crowded house at the Academy last night." The theater is well ventilated and comfortable, and the performances of Carncross & Dixey's minstrels just such as the people delight in this excessively hot weather. To-night, a selection of local acts, abounding in fun, including "scenes in Mayor Blackmore's Court," the "Emancipation Jubilee," etc., etc., will be given. The programme will be changed in almost every particular, the burlesque of "Lucretia Borgia" being retained by special request. This popular company will give but three more entertainments, and it behooves those who have not yet had the pleasure of hearing them to do so during this week. We hope the troupe will give a matinee on Saturday, as hundreds of ladies and children residing in the suburbs desire to hear them, but cannot attend an evening performance.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Mitchell's Royal Yeddo Japanese troupe make their first appearance at the above named theater this evening, in a performance peculiar to their own country. As balancers, light and heavy, these Orientals have no equals, while their feats of dexterity are really marvelous. The members of the Royal Yeddo are said to excel any performers that ever left their native shores. A full-fledged orator accompanies them, who, in choice Japanese, explains each act on the programme, greatly to the enlightenment of the auditors. Secure seats at the box-office to-day.

Varieties Theater.

The female minstrels are announced for new novelties to-night, rendered in most charming style and costume. The other artists have fresh acts assigned to them by the efficient stage manager, Mr. Fitzsimmons.

The Protestant Orphan Asylum.

The following communication has been received: The eighteenth of June, 1872, is long to be remembered by the children and officers of the Protestant Orphan Asylum of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

Through the kindness and generosity of our benevolent friends, Felix R. Brunot, Esq., and his estimable wife, a munificent entertainment was provided at their beautiful country seat on the Allegheny Valley road. Not only their ample grounds, fitted up with swings, flying-horse and other amusements, were at our disposal, but every door of their delightful house thrown wide open. No place was too good for the children, that would in any way add to their enjoyment. Great Praise is due the matron and her helpers, for the good behaviour of the children, one hundred and forty-four being present. While free privilege of grounds and house was granted, not a shrub, flower, carpets, furniture or paint bore vestige of a rude hand or foot. A marked feature of this institution is the willing obedience given to all commands, showing the power of love and kindness, over fear and tyranny.

Providence seemed to favor us in every way; not only was the day clear and beautiful, but not one child was missing, all the family were there. One little four year old, who had been quite sick and feared it could not go to "Miss B'uno's," was sufficiently recovered to join the happy party. No accident occurred to mar the enjoyment of the day, but all returned safely to their home, feeling that although orphans, they were neither homeless or friendless.

The ever obliging Col. Phillips of the Allegheny Valley Railroad kindly provided two cars for our accommodation, to whom many thanks are due as well as for the courtesy of the Fort Wayne Road, in granting the privilege of transit to a point nearest the Home, thus relieving all of unnecessary care and fatigue.

May the Great Dispenser shower spiritual gifts on those who have so liberally contributed to the pleasure of the little orphans is the fervent prayer of VISITOR.

Presbytery of Allegheny.

At a late meeting of the Presbytery of Allegheny Mr. McNary Forsyth was ordained and installed as pastor of the church at Millvale. Rev. John M. Smith presided, Rev. Wm. P. Moore preached the sermon, and gave the charge to the pastor, and Rev. D. P. Lowry gave the charge to the people. Millvale is one of the mission churches established within the last few years by the Presbytery of Allegheny, and its young and energetic pastor, who has been laboring there for the past year as a licentiate, now enters upon his full work as a pastor, with most encouraging prospects. The growing village of Hoboken, on the West Penn. Railroad, was especially recommended to the attention of the Presbyterial Committee on Church Extension.

JACOB HANN had a hearing last evening before Mayor Callow on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by his wife, Mary Hann. The prosecutrix alleged that her husband has been on a spree the past month, and on Tuesday evening returned home drunk, when he seized an ax and struck at her, but was prevented hitting her by a neighbor who happened to be in the house at the time. He then seized a revolver and fired, but fortunately missed his mark. The Mayor committed the brutal husband to the workhouse for nine months.

AUGUST HANNI preferred a charge of malicious mischief yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Christ School, alleging that the accused threw stones against his house. A dentist named Flowers also make information before the same magistrate against J. J. Barnes, alleging that the accused had obtained his services and that the bill amounted to $12 40, which he settled by giving him a check which proved to be worthless. Mary McGovern, of Braddock's Fields, made complaint against her mother-in-law, Bridget McGovern, charging her with disorderly conduct. Warrants were issued.

THE practice which some young men (and old ones too, sometimes) are guilty of, of making unkind and indelicate remarks about ladies passing along the streets, is very ungentlemanly, and should be rebuked by those who have a proper respect for themselves and due regard for the delicate feelings of the gentler sex. Every lady, no matter whether personally known or not, is entitled to respectful consideration and protection in all places and under all circumstances, particularly when passing along the streets unprotected, and no gentleman would be guilty of insulting one, even by thought, much less by course and indecent remarks carelessly made, not caring whether it be overheard or not.

IT is a comparatively easy matter to lead a horse to the water, but that noble animal generally exercises his own discretion as to whether he will drink. The resolutions of the "Jackson Association," of this city, passed last night and printed in another column, reflecting, as they do, the private sentiments of a large number of Democrats in various parts of the country, to some extent indicate the wide difference which will be found between the ease with which Mr. Greeley may possibly be nominated at Baltimore by managing politicians, and the difficulty of getting the rank and file of the party to vote for him afterwards.

YESTERDAY afternoon we recorded the capture of a woman named Eliza Martin, who had a chain around her neck to which was attached a heavy weight. At the hearing of the case yesterday, it was developed that the chain was placed on her neck by her husband as a punishment for getting drunk. The Mayor had the case investigated and learned that the woman's husband had been in the habit of beating and abusing her and on one occasion had struck her with an iron poker, heated until it was red hot. The husband, who had taken the law into his own hands, was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 to answer for his conduct at court.

CARL RUTSCH, a butcher doing business at No. 36 Wylie avenue, has disappeared. He was engaged at his business as usual last Saturday, and was heard in his shop at eleven o'clock that night, but since then nothing has been heard of him. The fact that he had the money taken in during the day on his person, in connection with other facts, looks as though he has either been the victim of foul play or has met with a serious or may be fatal accident. He left his horse in the stable, his wagon near by, and meat hanging on the hooks in his shop. Rutsch is described as about twenty-four years of age, heavy, low set in stature, smooth face and black hair of medium length. Since Sunday neighbors have taken care of his horse, and yesterday the meat in his shop having become offensive, was removed by them.

FRUITS and berries at this season of the year are not only precious luxuries, but great promoters of health. They act upon the liver, promoting that secretion naturally which many are in the habit of obtaining only by the means of artificial medicines. They thus divert many a disease resulting from a torpid condition of the liver. Another way in which they act beneficially is in the mechanical effect their little seeds produce in passing through the bowels, very much the same as the watering of an irritated eye ball when any hard substance touches that delicate organ, and this water, by dissolving the hardened contents of constipated bowels, keeps them in a healthier state than any pill or purgative invented by the apothecary. There can be no doubt that in the summer and fall seasons people who live mainly on fruits and berries and coarse bread can almost insure exemption from sickness, while those who eat heartily of solid meats or vegetables two or three times a day are liable to all the diseases the flesh is heir to.

A YOUNG man named Henry Johnson, while engaged at work yesterday in the Clinton iron works, had his wrist broken by a beam falling upon it. Dr. Roberts attended him.

A YOUNG MAN named Wm. Harris, engaged in repairing the slate roof of the Ninth ward school house, while walking along the ceiling joists yesterday, stumbled, and fell through the ceiling to the floor below, a distance of fifteen feet, but escaped with only a few slight bruises.

A YOUNG lad named Hastings, employed in the nail factory of Messrs. Shoenberger & Co., on Fifteenth street, while engaged at a nail cutting machine, had his finger caught in the machine, and so badly injured that amputation was found to be necessary.

YESTERDAY afternoon a horse attached to a buggy, frightened at a passing locomotive on Liberty near Twenty-third street, and dashed along the street at a furious gait. In turning the corner of Twenty-second street the buggy was upset and the occupant, Wm. Pole, thrown violently to the ground, by which he sustained severe injuries. The buggy was almost totally demolished.

AN information for assault and battery was preferred yesterday before Alderman Bolster, of Allegheny, against Andrew Dietrich, Adam Beaver, prosecutor. The deponent is a boy about twelve years of age who alleged that the defendant caught him by the ears, and held him in the air inflicting severe injuries. The parties reside in the Seventh ward. A warrant was issued.

PENNSYLVANIA FEMALE COLLEGE.

Concluding Examinations—The Soiree Musicale.

The exercises of Tuesday included examinations in practical arithmetic by Miss Le Moyne; in algebra by Miss Ladden; in composition and rhetoric by Miss Pelletreau; in Shakspeare and Virgil by the President; in physics by Prof. Rankin; in Butler's analogy by Prof Beatty; in mental science by Prof. Gillespie; and in mental arithmetic by Miss Pelletreau. All of these were equally satisfactory with those of the previous day, being all that could be desired, except that the diffidence of the young ladies made it difficult for some of them to be heard. In Shakspeare, a part of the Merchant of Venice was admirably analyzed, as a specimen of the manner in which the class has been accustomed to do this work, and are trained to read dramatic or other poetry with profit.

Interspersed between the examinations were essays by Miss Logan, Miss Black, and Miss Robinson, of which it need only be said that they were admirably written and well read.

Of the examinations and performances as a whole, it is conceded on all hands that they were most thorough and satisfactory throughout.

The Soiree Musicale in the evening was attended by a brilliant and crowded audience, and was regarded by all present as a triumphant success. We will not attempt to characterize the performances, further than to say that the bill of fare presented in the programme was most appetizing to professed musicians, and that the feast of sweet sounds was no less relished by the delighted audience, than was the strawberry lunch which was spread in the earlier part of the evening.

Altogether the exercises of this commencement season cannot but do much to recommend this institution to the still more hearty patronage of its friends, and to attract the favorable attention of the public at large.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Criminal Court—Judge Sterrett.

In this Court, yesterday, the following business was transacted:

In the case of James Dillon, previously reported, the jury found a verdict of not guilty, but defendant was directed to pay the costs.

Frank Daniels, indicted for assault, Sallie New, prosecutrix, was found not guilty, and the costs were equally divided.

B. Nochten was found guilty of committing an assault and battery upon Conrad Sandrock, Sr. He was also indicted upon oath of C. Sandrock, Jr., but a verdict of not guilty was rendered. He was ordered to pay the costs.

John Helbling, charged with assault and battery, was acquitted. Sebastian Ament, the prosecutor, was directed to pay the costs.

John Welsh was indicted for keeping a ferocious dog, William J. Dillion prosecutor. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and directed the prosecutor to pay the costs. They also added the gratuitous advice that "defendant hereafter keep his dog on his own premises."

The case of the commonwealth vs. John Higgins, indicted for aggravated assault, was settled on payment of costs by defendant.

The case of commonwealth vs. Thomas Dunn, charged with malicious mischief, was allowed to be settled on payment of costs by the defendant.

The next case taken up was that of Sarah Holmes, colored, indicted for committing an assault and battery upon William Hinkle, a blind man. A verdict of not guilty, prosecutor to pay the costs, was rendered.

John Martin Appell, driver for Pier, Dannals & Co., was arraigned on a charge of embezzling money from the firm. On trial.

Wandering Children.

A little girl aged twelve years, accompanied by two younger brothers, arrived in Allegheny Monday evening. They were asked where they came from, and the girl stated that they had walked all the way from Butler; that they had been living in Butler for some time, but their mother cruelly abandoned them several days since, leaving them without food or means to obtain it. She also stated that they were friendless, and that after securing some food they determined to come to the city with the hope of finding their mother. Some kind hearted people living on Ohio street, near the Diamond, took the little wanderers to their homes with the intention of keeping them until further inquiries could be made concerning them. Yesterday one of the boys was taken seriously ill, and a physician was immediately summoned. He announced that the child had symptoms of small-pox, and last night the disease had fully developed. It is probable the child will be removed to the hospital for treatment, and as a precautionary measure the other children will be taken to the same institution. An effort is being made to obtain further information concerning what appears to be a case of heartless abandonment on the part of a mother.

An Outrage at McKeesport.

A young woman named Jennie Keefe appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday and made information against Wm. McMullin, of McKeesport, charging him with attempted rape. The alleged crime was committed on Monday last, near the town of McKeesport. McMullin, it is alleged has been paying attentions to the young woman for some time. On the evening of the day stated they took a walk in the suburbs of the town together and, when a lonely place was reached, the young woman states that McMullin threw her down and attempted the crime alluded to. Her cries however attracted some passers by, and on their approach McMullin fled. The officers of the law are after him.

Jackson Association Meeting.

At a meeting of the Young Men's Jackson Association held last evening, Dr. E. W. Swentzel, President, in the chair, and A. Keating Secretary pro tem., a resolution was adopted indorsing the Democratic State ticket, and also the following:

Resolved, That we deem it unwise for the Democrats to nominate a life-long opponent of Democratic principles for the highest office in the gift of the American people, believing that such action will be the means of breeding dissent and tend to perpetuation of the present corrupt administration in power, and so far as lies in our power, we will oppose such suicidal policy.

Resolved, That we deem it advisable for Democrats to get up remonstrances against such proposed action of going outside of our party for a leader, have them numerously signed and placed in the hands of our delegates, for presentation to the National Convention.

The Pittsburgh Female College.

Last evening the exercises of the graduating class were the order at the Pittsburgh Female College. The musical portion as well as the competitive exercises of the young ladies proved highly entertaining and interesting to the large audience in attendance. Dr. Baird delivered an address, at the conclusion of which Dr. Pershing called up the members and delivered the diplomas. The occasion was an exceedingly interesting one.

THE SECOND DAY AT NORTH HOMESTEAD.

Homestead Terrace!—Homestead Park!!

Our friends of the Homestead Bank yesterday gave their second excursion to North Homestead. Of course it was a success. "Homestead" always is. The attendance was not as large as on Monday, but what it lacked in numbers was made up in the fact that everybody meant business. The sales were sufficient to run the aggregate for both days somewhat over $100,000.

Everybody came away well pleased, buyers and sellers alike being fully persuaded that they had made a good thing of it, a conclusion in which we fully concur. The Bank has certainly sold at a large advance on the purchase, price and yet it was argued on all sides that considering the peculiarly advantageous terms, as well the peculiar advantages of the locality, it is the cheapest suburban property that has been sold within the year, indeed, quite a number of resales were effected on the ground, one that we heard of at an advance of $300. We understand that this is the last public sale that will be had on this property, enough having been already sold to pay the whole purchase price.

The next demonstration by this enterprising institution will be the opening of a very choice property on the Allegheny Valley Road, some two miles this side of Verona, where it has secured about 200 acres, on terms that will bring within the reach of every industrious mechanic not only a "quarter," but a whole acre. The tract is a level plateau, some 70 to 100 feet above the river, five to eight minutes from the railroad, and on the line of Wildwood avenue, which is about to be opened to Verona. It is to be appropriately called "Homestead Terrace," and will be in the market in August. We cannot refrain from mentioning another prospective operation in the Homestead line that strikes us as the boldest and most commendable as well as the most promising that has been attempted anywhere in the country. The bank has purchased some 240 acres in the beautiful Chartiers Valley at Cemetery station on the Panhandle, 3½ miles from Jones Ferry by the driving road, which it is proposed to lay out as a "Park" of Homesteads with winding avenues conforming to the natural grades, with the lots divided according to the natural "lay" of the land. The intention being to establish a permanently rural village in which there never will be occasion for such expensive improvements as filling up and cutting down all its natural beauties as uniformly happens in villages where the streets are laid out in right angles without reference to the character of the surface. If proper judgment and taste is exercised in this enterprise, we have no doubt it will prove a decided stroke of policy. But whether it be or be not a financial success, it cannot fail to be for all time a thing of beauty and a joy forever. We need hardly say it is to be called "Homestead Park."

Mr. Ramsey, as is well known, was a member of the Eighth Pennsylvania Reserves during the late war of the rebellion, and lost a limb on the field of battle. He is in every way deserving of a "rousing" benefit, and those having it in charge will spare no pains to make the occasion an unusually pleasant one. Those who attend while enjoying themselves will be contributing to the relief of a brave soldier whose crippled condition prevents him gaining a livelihood.

Fine Furniture—Where It May be Found.

There is no better place in our city to purchase superior fine furniture than at the old reliable and well known establishment of Messrs. J. Meyer & Son, Nos. 412 and 414 Penn avenue, east of the railroad crossing. They have a large assortment always on hand consisting of articles of their own manufacture and of the products of the best eastern manufactories. The prices at which the goods are sold are not only the lowest to be obtained hereabouts, but are actually from thirty to fifty per cent. below those prevailing on Broadway, New York. Another advantage gained by buying at this house deserving of especial mention is that you can buy parlor setts and have them upholstered to suit your taste, and make your selection from the large assortment of brocatelles, cotalines and terrys kept by the firm for this purpose. Before buying any furniture don't fail to call on Messrs. J. Meyer & Son.

Buffalo Meat.

The sugar-cured buffalo meat put up in canvas bags, of which a large supply is kept constantly on hand by Messrs. Van Gorder & Shepard, No. 351 Liberty street, is particularly fine. It is more juicy, and altogether superior to dried beef. It is a delicacy that should find its way into every household, and housekeepers should at least give it a trial. Those who have used it recommend it in the highest terms. The price at which it is sold will be found entirely reasonable.

From the Earliest Ages
Scrofula has been the bane and, as it were, the curse of mankind. In those days the disease was called Leprosy, but later it got the title of King's Evil, and still later it was called Scrofula, which is a term given to a mild form, or where the disease descends from one generation to another. Moses, in the 13th chapter of Leviticus, lays down very explicit rules for distinguishing between those spots which are proofs of the actual existence of Leprosy, and those spots which arise from other impurities of the blood, so terrible and loathsome that had it been considered then that a person known to be infected with it would not be allowed to mix with society. The Jews regarded it as a divine infliction, and believed there was no cure for it. It was then the sins of youth or a deviation from the paths of virtue were punished as long as life lasted. Happily in our day, the science of medicine has been developed, the great store-house of Nature furnishes a remedy, the disease is stripped of its terror by the use of the SAMARITAN'S ROOT AND HERB JUICES, and the victim of Scrofula, Ulcers, Sores, Pimples, Blotches, Tetter, &c., can be restored to sound health in a few weeks. That there are thousands now whose conditions are as bad as were those of the dark ages we are well aware. Many now fail to find a cure as well as they did then. To all such the Samaritan's Root and Herb Juices will prove a happy boon, eradicating all impurities from the blood, and making the complexion bright and healthy. A few bottles will remove pimples or blotches, thereby doing away with cosmetics and powders. ROOT AND HERB JUICES, $1 25 per bottle. Sent by Express to any address.

1 ACRE LOTS,
3 ACRE LOTS,
5 ACRE LOTS,
AT Noblestown,
ON THE
PAN HANDLE RAILROAD,
AT AUCTION.
ON THURSDAY, JUNE 27,
AT 10 O'CLOCK,
On the Premises, will be sold in Plots of 1 to 10 Acres each, the Beautiful Tract of 140 Acres, known as the Hoffman Farm, at Noblestown, twelve miles from Pittsburgh, on the Panhandle Railroad. The following reasons are given why intending buyers of Lots should give this sale their special attention:
1. You can buy a Homestead by the Acre, cheaper than you can buy the small lots offering on the outskirts of the cities and along the lines of street and other steam railways.
2. The Railway facilities are good and rapidly improving, so that this point will soon possess equal advantages with any other.
3. An Acre, two Acre or five Acre Lot affords some opportunity to create a desirable Homestead. You can have a Garden, Orchard, Pasture and other auxiliaries to pleasure and comfort.
4. There are good, rich Soil, Coal, good Spring Water, Schools, Churches, Stores, and just as lovely scenery as is to be found in Allegheny county.
5. The entire property being sold in large tracts, insures a better class of society and improvement, and consequently a more rapid and substantial increase in value.
If you have the least notion of buying a large Lot of Ground, go to the sale. If you wish to emancipate yourself from the close confinement of the crowded cities and give full scope to your wife and children in the pure exhilarating atmosphere of the country, go to this sale.
It will pay you to go, whether you buy or not. All respectable persons are invited to go by a Free Train, leaving Union Depot on THURSDAY MORNING, at 9:30, stopping at Birmingham only. Ample provision will be made for the comfort of all.
Terms—Fourth Cash, balance in Four Years.
